CASERTA

a southern town

Caserta is one of the five provinces of Campania, the region which is part of the "ankle" of the Italian "boot".

It is an important agricultural and industrial town.

Caserta's main attraction is the Royal Palace.

The construction of the palace was begun in 1752 for Charles VII of Naples, who worked closely with his architect Luigi Vanvitelli. The political and social model for Vanvitelli's palace was Versailles.

Inside are more than 1200 rooms, decorated in various styles.

The park is 2 miles long (3,2 km) and contains many waterfalls, lakes and gardens.

Famous is also Casertavecchia, the ancient centre of the town, and S. Leucio resort, seat of the important silk workshops.
